

Triana Science & Technology will attend and will co-organize the third International School on Biological Crystallization that took place in Granada from 22 to 27 May 2011.

For more information visit the following link:

